SAFE Money Moves

How to Identify and Prevent Financial Scams

S—Stop

Before picking up the phone or clicking an email link, stop and consider: Who is contacting me? How did they get my information? What's the offer? Taking a moment to slow down can help you avoid a hasty and potentially costly decision.

A—Analyze

Scammers are always coming up with clever ways to trick their victims. You can stay one step ahead by knowing the warning signs. Watch out for spelling and grammatical errors, urgent requests, unsolicited offers or attempts to get your personal information.

F—Fact Check

Another helpful trick is to verify that the information is genuine. If uncertain, contact the organization directly, request the details in writing or consult a reliable source.

Be Aware: KeyPoint representatives will NEVER ask you for your login credentials.

E—Expose

We're committed to protecting your privacy, security and account information. If you suspect your information has been compromised or wish to report suspicious activity, please contact us immediately at (888) 255-3637.
